Beautiful, Rugged Interiors That Pay Off in Driver Comfort and Long Wear

Kenworth Splendor Interiors add the perfect finish to the world famous Kenworth cab. They are designed and put together like the truck itself — to be beautiful and last a long, long time. Workmanship and finish would do credit to any fine passenger car. The beauty, durability, and ruggedness are exceptional — because these interiors are built for a man who has to work in the truck to make his living and wants the ultimate in truck cab luxury, comfort, and appearance. (Some fleets have found that Splendor Interiors for their trucks have resulted in more personal pride from their drivers and subsequently lower maintenance costs.)

Conventional

The Splendor Interior door pad is rolled and padded with the lower kick area completed in coordinating colored nylon carpeting for extended wear, ease of cleaning, and outstanding appearance. Window roll down handles and flush mounted door latch handles are finished in high gloss chrome and along the window ledge is a black vinyl padded arm rest.

The Conventional sleeper compartment is completely rolled and padded on all wall panels. The headliner is of the same molded Cycolac material as in the cab, textured to enhance the beauty of the Splendor Interior. The doors at each end of the sleeper are rolled and padded with tight-sealing vents for added comfort.

This conventional cab is appointed with the Splendor Interior. The Splendor seats, door pads, and back panels are rolled and padded for outstanding and tasteful appearance as well as comfort and luxury. The Splendor material is rugged expanded vinyl, stitched with extra strong dacron thread. The headliner is of molded Autumn Smoke colored Cyclolac, backed with fiberglass insulation, textured to enhance the beauty of the Splendor Interior, and fastened into place with color matching, large headed buttons. The sun visors are rolled and padded in Autumn Smoke colored expanded vinyl material to match the headliner.

C.O.E.

The COE Splendor Interior includes a carefully fitted hood blanket. Easily removed for cleaning purposes and fastened into place with chrome finished snaps. (One inch foam pad is used with the blanket to absorb engine heat and noise.) The Kenworth Air-Ride seat and the tool box rider's seat are available either in solid red, green, brown or black upholstery material or in combination with Autumn Smoke upholstery material as shown here. The headliner is molded Autumn Smoke colored Cyclolac backed with foam insulation. The sun visors are Autumn Smoke colored vinyl and padded for an additional luxurious touch.

Note that the instrument panels and console panels are finished in simulated walnut grain material. The dash and console compartments are finished in textured flat black material to reduce sun reflection and add the proper accent to the Splendor Interior.
